

Public Relations Assistance

When a Director or Vice Director has a request for assistance with a media or public relations issue, the initial outreach must first be made through the office of the Chief Executive Officer. Members of the Public Relations Department should not be contacted directly until after contacting the CEO first.

Once a request has been made and approved, the Director or Vice Director can engage a member of the Public Relations staff.